

WAR STEPS ARE TAKEN BY BRAZIL

CHILE AND OTHER SOUTH AMERICAN COUNTRIES MAY FOLLOW IN STAND AGAINST GERMANY.

TO REVOKE NEUTRALITY

Diplomatic Commission Advises Seizure of German Ships and Agreement With Allied Nations.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Washington, May 29.—Brazil's decision to revoke her decree of neutrality is assumed here as little less than a declaration of a state of war with Germany, and as indicating a general breakdown of German propaganda all over the southern continent. Unofficial advice says Chile will endorse and perhaps join Brazil in her stand against Germany.

To Seize Ships. Rio de Janeiro, May 29.—Seizure of German ships and adoption of naval measures against Germany in co-operation with the allied allies is recommended by the diplomatic commission of the chamber of deputies to which was referred the message of President Vargas regarding the revocation of the Brazilian neutrality law. The commission decided to submit to congress a bill authorizing the president to utilize Brazilian ships in the ports to investigate cases of German vessels. The bill also provides for the seizure of German ships and the revocation of the decree of neutrality issued during the war as soon as advisable.

FIND PROPAGANDA TO BELITTLE DRAFT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington, May 29.—German influence to encourage resistance to army registration and the selective draft uncovered in Texas by a federal grand jury already has resulted in seven indictments. Various arrests on the same charge in various cities apparently are not so closely linked with German influence, but are being investigated.

In Missouri. Kansas City, Mo., May 29.—A special federal grand jury to meet June 6 was called here today by Federal Judge A. S. Valkenburg. Francis M. Wilson, United States district attorney for western Missouri, in asking that the jury be called, says it was necessary to investigate cases of persons who were advocating non-compliance with draft army registration law.

GET OUT ON FARMS ADVISE TO GERMANS

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

New York, May 29.—Unnaturalized Germans who have been discharged by public service corporations and other private concerns are urged today by Thomas D. McCarthy, United States marshal, to "get out on farms" somewhere, if they are physically fit. This advice was issued by McCarthy yesterday from a statement that the government restrictions on all water fronts as well as on land and air were drawn tighter as a result of the apparent activities of traitorous plotters.

BELOIT MEN SPLIT OVER CITY MANAGER

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Madison, Wis., May 29.—A further attempt may be made in the near future to revise the city manager plan, as the city of Beloit is divided today by the city manager plan. At the present time the city of Beloit is divided into two camps. One camp is in favor of the city manager plan, and the other is in favor of the mayor and council plan. The city manager plan is supported by the city manager, the city clerk, and the city treasurer. The mayor and council plan is supported by the mayor, the city clerk, and the city treasurer.

Additional buildings will probably be erected at the Wisconsin Veterans' home at Waupaca. Last week an appropriation of $60,000 for additional buildings was presented to the finance committee and it is understood that the committee is rather inclined to act favorably on a part of the request at least. This money is needed for the construction of a new power house. There are some members of the committee, who have taken the position that the present power house could be repaired with a small appropriation. The claim is made by the residents of Waupaca that the present power house is not only unsafe, but it is also inefficient. A further investigation will be made by the finance committee before action is taken on the request.

Summary of War News

While the only fear of intense military activity at present is on the Austro-Italian front, where General Cadorna is day by day pushing back the Austrian lines upon Trieste, there are indications that the stagnation along the French and British front in France may soon be interrupted. The sign of this is the intense aerial activity taking place. The British report of last night emphasized its account of the German machine guns destroyed and ten others driven out of control, while today from the French front Paris announces bringing down seven German aeroplanes in the engagement and serious damage to twelve others.

For the present, however, the allied infantry is being held close to its line. Haiding operations and occasional local attacks by one side or the other are the only developments reported in the official statements, not from displays of energy of the air men and the artillery arms.

The German infantry facing the British armies is apparently being held in check by its commanders as closely as that of its opponents, but sharp attacks continue upon the French line, notably in the Champagne region, where the conflict is yet to be decided in the Hurbise district, but each was repulsed.

The French made a minor thrust on their own account in the Verdun region, where the activity is becoming more marked of late on both sides. A small German post north of Vachereauville, was captured in this operation.

Brazil is rapidly passing from the status of a neutral to that of an active participant on the allied side of the conflict. The measure revoking her neutrality is now well on its way through parliament.

In Austria-Hungary the political situation is still in transformation period. The Hungarian premiership, according to a Zurich dispatch, is to be filled by Count Julius Andrássy, pronounced liberal, the entire significance of his reported accession following retirement of Count Tisza, representative of the ultra-German influence in the country, is yet to be developed. The change is nominally due to internal political conditions, but there are strong beliefs held in many quarters that it may be a marked effect on Austria's foreign policy, in relation to her supposed moderate war aims as contrasted with Germany's reputed wide ambition.

COUNT ANDRASSY IS NAMED TO SUCCEED TISZA AS PREMIER

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Zurich, Switzerland, May 29. British admiralty press wireless says: An official telegram from Budapest says Emperor Charles has appointed Count Andrássy premier of Hungary.

There has been a vacancy in the Hungarian premiership since May 23 when Count Steven Tisza, Austria Hungary's "Iron Man" and leader of the pro-German party in the chamber of lords, died. Deceased with the throne over franchise reform were assigned as a reason for his resignation. Count Tisza's proposals were understood to be monarchic in scope than those of the monarchy favored.

Count Andrássy, a former premier and an opponent of Count Tisza's ministry, is regarded as an advanced liberal.

Lacks Confirmation. Amsterdam, via London, May 29.—The Volks Zeitung of Cologne says official confirmation of appointment is lacking.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN COSTS FIVE DOLLARS

Washington, D. C., May 29.—Many misunderstandings have arisen with regard to the Official Bulletin, which is published by the committee on public information under order of the president. This publication is not a newspaper in the accepted sense of the word. Its single purpose is to give the full and legal printing of the official announcements of government heads in connection with government business.

This publication is not its thought or ambition. It will not interfere with the legitimate functions of the press, nor will official news be withheld in order to give the Bulletin any special significance.

The Bulletin will contain proclamations and executive orders of the president, rules and regulations promulgated by the various departments, administrative orders, official statements of policy or of facts issued by heads of departments and government officials, statutes relating to war matters, and other matter for the information of the public.

The Official Bulletin is sent without charge to the president of the United States, the cabinet and officials of all government departments; to the members of congress; officers of the army and navy; every post office; to all governors of all states; mayors of all cities; all daily newspapers and press associations of the country; all magazines, newspapers, and business firms; and to all other public institutions.

To the general public, and to private institutions, a charge of $5.00 a year will be made, as the provisions under which the bulletin is published make it impossible to distribute free copies. Necessarily the issue will be limited, and there will be other binding restrictions. A mechanical impossibility would prevent a general free circulation. Therefore, the committee will follow the plan approved by the senate for the sale of Congressional Records.

SECRETARY TELLS OF GERMAN EFFORTS TO CREATE DISCORD BETWEEN U.S. AND ENTENTE.

CUT TARIFF INCREASE

Senate Finance Committee Continues Slashing of War Revenue Bill by Eliminating Entire Tariff Provision.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Washington, May 29.—Secretary Lansing, testifying today before the house commerce committee in support of the trading with the enemy bill, said the government had evidence that Germany, while the United States was still neutral, had sent an agent here who organized a steamship company and loaned Americans money to buy the grain aboard ships in order to export it to Germany. The agent was captured by the British and sent to France over their seizure upon leaving port.

"There are many cases," he said, "doubtless inspired by Germany, which are being carried out in this country for the sole purpose of creating friction with Great Britain and France."

Secretary Lansing was asked about the American Trans-Atlantic company, but refused to discuss the case. Representative Adamson said numerous complaints had been received that the bill interfered with innocent business and was confiscatory. "It's not confiscatory at all," replied Secretary Lansing, "it is a bill against unjust seizure."

Secretary Lansing added that there was nothing new in the principle in prohibiting trade with the enemy, and that it would be novel not to prohibit.

Cut Tariff Section. Another fundamental change in the war tax bill was agreed upon unanimously today by the senate finance committee, which decided to strike out the whole section levying $200,000 by a general tariff increase on all goods imported into the United States.

As a substitute the committee proposes direct excise or consumption taxes on sugar, tea, coffee and cocoa.

Final and Complete Agreement. The senate finance committee is revising the house war revenue bill today took up provisions for general tariff increase.

URGENT PRIVATE RANK FOR ARMY CHAPLAIN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS] Milwaukee, Wis., May 29.—Captain Thomas E. Cathro of the army recruiting station, told the Milwaukee Ministerial association today that he advocated the suggestion that the rank of chaplain in the army be abolished.

Not one of a dozen commission men indicated other than the heaviest of the proposed food survey under direction of Herbert C. Hoover, war food dictator. They declared that whatever combinations for hoarding food had been in the past are not dissolved and that these combinations were few and far between. It is asserted that the commission business at the present time furnishes greater price competition than ever before.

Greek Envoy to U. S. Quits Post Because King Is Pro-German

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS]

Washington, May 29.—S. X. Constantini, first secretary of the Greek legation, presented his papers of resignation to the United States department of state and announced his allegiance to the forces of Venizelos. His action gave diplomatic corps a shock. Mr. Constantini declared he had been disappointed with being connected with King Constantine's government, ever since the United States declared war.

"As I see it," he said, "it is the duty of every humane and honest man to resign himself on the side of America and the entente. The whole terrible situation has narrowed down to the simple question of humanity and civilization against German barbarity and bestiality of a type almost beyond human belief. When a nation of people is being slaughtered, civilized human beings begin to sink hospital ships, murder women and children and use their dead for manure, it is time for all decent men to turn their backs on the government."

"When King Constantine allied himself on the side of German barbarity, I felt that the time to disassociate myself from his government had come, and I have resigned and offered myself to the services of the great Premier Venizelos, than whom in my judgment no greater statesman lives today in the world."

Communication Difficult. Paducah, Ky., May 29.—With wires down and roads miry, communication with many parts of the district in western Kentucky which was swept by Sunday's storm, was still difficult and it will probably be a day or two before it will be possible to obtain complete check on the number of lives lost and property destroyed. The death list in the four counties affected will probably exceed seventy. Sixty-seven unknown dead had been reported up to last night.

JANESVILLE PLAYS DUTY DAY EVENTS

SPECIAL COMMITTEE OF COMMERCIAL CLUB UNDER ROY WISNER TAKES PRELIMINARY STEPS.

A DAY OF PATRIOTISM

Big Parade, Band Concert, and Speeches on Program.—Buttons May Be Given to All Registering.

Definite steps were taken last evening by a committee of the Commercial club toward making registration day a "Duty Day," as it was proclaimed by Governor Philipp, a city-wide expression of patriotism which would focus the attention of all upon the great event and which will lend encouragement to those who are called upon to register for possible service at the front.

A special committee, under the chairmanship of Roy Wisner, discussed general plans for the day and mapped out a campaign for last evening. Efforts will be made to have the schools and various business houses of the city closed down for the day by the Italian war department. Mayor Fathers will issue a proclamation calling upon the citizens to close their places of business that day.

All societies, patriotic, fraternal, church and social, will be invited to participate in the big parade which is being arranged for the afternoon of June 6th. The band will lead the procession and it is likely that Company M will put on an exhibition drill as their part in the exercises. The parade of inspiring talks is being arranged for the afternoon, when everyone will gather in the Court House Park. The speakers' rostrum will be set up on the balcony of the Court House and the band will give an open air concert as one of the features of the program.

The aid of the women of the city will be solicited through their various organizations to do their part in making the day a truly patriotic holiday. It is likely that lapel buttons will be secured to give all those who register as a mark of their patriotism. The women may be called on to assist in this work, by staying at the registration place in the city where registration will be made, to distribute the buttons.

These are but a few of the features which were arranged for last evening. The special committee is planning a busy week to make effort to enlist the aid of every citizen in making Duty Day, a week from today, a holiday and the band will give an open air concert as one of the features of the program.

STATE DENTISTS TO HOLD CONVENTION HERE THIS SUMMER

Enlist Aid of Commercial Club in Preparing for Meeting of 300 State Dentists.

Janesville will be the meeting place of between three and five hundred dentists for three days during July of this year. The annual convention of the association has been arranged for this city for July 10, 11, 12, and will be held in the Auditorium. Previous to the sessions, the building will be entirely redecorated both on the inside and out; will be freshly painted, and every change necessary for the holding of a large convention will be made.

In addition to the beautification of the building itself, the streets will be decorated in honor of the occasion. Drs. Whitten and Holsapple, local dentists, appeared before the directors of the Commercial club yesterday afternoon to outline tentative plans for the convention and to enlist the aid of that organization in making a slight sum of money with which to defray the expenses incurred in preparing for the meeting.

The plan was heartily endorsed by the club, and the building committee was authorized to do whatever assistance possible in making the convention a great success.

Aid Government.
The Commercial club another role in the carefully laid plans of the government yesterday afternoon, when they took steps to aid in getting information regarding the proposed march of the recruiting department. The Milwaukee station had written asking information regarding any local firms employing a considerable number of men; the club has been answered by the club secretary, E. V. Kuhn.

Evansville Complaints.
Complaint made by the Evansville Commercial club to the local Commercial club that Janesville had not remained neutral in the location of the trunk line highway, but had influenced it to run through Edgerton and Stoughton, when in reality the Evansville was brought up by the directors. It was pointed out, however, that the petitions which were largely responsible for putting the road where it has, were drawn up by Evansville residents. The matter will be explained to the Evansville organization.

Favor More Bonds.
A movement on the part of the retail drygoods dealers of the country to protest against the wholesale taxation which is being placed on merchandise, is being carried on by the Evansville dealers. The present high prices can be relieved to some extent and our people of the future will share a part of the burden of the tax, if the Evansville dealers stand by the side of the National Retail Drygoods Dealers' association, a committee of which is composed of the Evansville dealers. The matter was referred to committee for consideration and action.

Liberty Loan.
The matter of the circulation of the Liberty Loan bonds in this community was brought up and urged by a number of members, and by Postmaster T. O. W. Kuhn, as a matter of vital importance and of immediate necessity. The club's part in the distribution was turned over to the finance committee, which is headed by William McGavock, chairman, for definite action. A number of teams will be appointed with a representative from each bank to make a thorough canvass of all interests in the city.

CANNOT SELL LIQUOR TO MAN IN UNIFORM

Saloonkeeper or Others Liable to Heavy Fine and Imprisonment if He Violated Federal Law.

George Clark, a traveling liquor salesman, called on Chief of Police P. D. Champion this morning and requested that the attention of all Janesville saloonkeepers be called to the federal law relative to the selling of liquor to soldiers. Some of the saloonkeepers were designated by him as being in federal service.

Congress recently made it a criminal act to sell liquor to a man in uniform. The penalty is more than a $1000 fine or a year in Fort Leavenworth or both.

Saloonkeepers and their bartenders are informed that a switching of drinks by a man in uniform and one in civilian clothes is taboo. It has been reported from some cities that pairs in such attire have entered saloons, the soldier ordering a drink and his companion one of liquor. After being served they exchange glasses. Permitting of this constitutes just as much of an offense as the direct sale to the man in uniform.

SLATED AS CHIEF RATER OF INSURANCE DEPARTMENT

Madison, Wis., May 29.—C. M. Park of Madison, Wis., for two and a half years, manager of the Madison branch of the Wisconsin inspection bureau, will probably be appointed chief rater of the insurance department by Commissioner of Insurance P. D. Champion. Mr. Park's duties are to be confined largely to certain work incident to the requirements of the new Wisconsin anti-discrimination rating law, introduced by Senator Bingham, which went into effect on April 9, and the remainder which will be effective ninety days later, or July 9. Mr. Park has had many years of experience in rating, and is a non-partisan, and is well known in the insurance circles. Mr. Park had not been completed.

REGISTRATION LAW INCLUDES MILITIA

All Badger Guardsmen Not Now in Federal Service Must Enroll June 5.

All members of the Wisconsin National guard except those of the Third regiment, who are now in the federal service, will have to register under the selective draft law on June 5. The members of the guard will be able to claim the exemption later. The adjutant general said he said that he had received a large number of inquiries on the matter from members of the guard in different parts of the state, who seemed to be under the impression that inasmuch as they were in the state militia they would not be required to register.

Tells Men to Register.
The adjutant general told a score of captains and others over the telephone on Monday that they should see that their men registered and that they could claim their exemption later. The members of the Third infantry, who are now in the federal service, would not be required to register, the adjutant general said.

Many musicians and other men who are qualified for service in special branches of the army are daily telephoning or writing the adjutant general inquiring for information as to what they must do to get into service of the army. He is answering these inquiries as rapidly as he can.

700 Physicians Needed.
According to the office of the state council of defense, Wisconsin must furnish 700 physicians for the quota under the selective conscription act. There are 2,500 licensed physicians in the state. The Wisconsin Medical society, after an investigation, reports that 550 doctors are either in some branch of the service now or are ready to go when called upon.

A plan has been suggested whereby physicians in Wisconsin will be asked to pledge that for any work done for the patient of a physician who has been drafted to the front, the attending physician will turn over one-third of his fee to the family of the absent physician.

From Washington comes the following: Married men as a class will not be exempt from draft in the new national army. It is probable that married men who are drafted will be relieved from military service if they have families dependent upon them, but merely because they are married they will not be exempted.

General Crowder today reiterated an oft repeated warning that failure to register June 5 makes one liable to a year's imprisonment. The fact that one is not entitled to vote does not excuse him from registration. Men who claim exemption from the draft will be required later to explain fully why they should not be called. Public authorities will be called upon to explain the exemption of individual men on basis of second and more ample explanation, not on the basis of stated reason given the registrar. Tuesday. This was explained today by Brigadier General Crowder, provost marshal.

DOG TAX TAGS HERE; YEAR STARTS FRIDAY

City Receives Seven Hundred Licenses and Work of Registrar Will Start Thursday.

Nineteen sixteen dog licenses expire Thursday night. Friday the 1917 tags may be procured from City Clerk. This morning seven hundred tags for the coming year were received by the city clerk. Last year there were 801 tags issued and of this number but fifteen were duplicates for tags lost or stolen.

In the several years since the city inaugurated the licensing of its canine population there has been a marked increase in the number of tags issued each succeeding year, indicative of the city officials' view of the yellow cur. In many instances valuable dogs, in the eye of the fancier, have been killed by the owners who do not care to go to the expense of a license to keep them.

Similar to last year, males will be taxed one dollar and females two.

George T. Croft has been appointed registrar in the fifth ward for registration day to take the place of Edward H. Peterson. S. A. Cooper this morning called on Mayor Peterson and offered the city the use of the building on Dodge street for fourth ward registration. It is the polling place usually rented by the city in instances of election.

Claims Innocence: Paddy Miller pleaded not guilty to drunkenness charges in the police court this morning and was held for examination on June 5, with bail at $75.

It is sad yet nevertheless true that the sentiment which prompted the originator to have set apart a day in which to commemorate the death of all those who fought and died for the United States has been a measure fallen away and the day has more or less been given over to sport and made more of a gala day than was originally intended, and it seems but fitting at such a time to renew that sentiment and teach the children to be patriotic and to revere and honor the old soldier.

TAKE STEPS TO PUSH LIBERTY LOAN HERE

JANESVILLE HAS SUBSCRIBED
BUT SEVENTY-FIVE THOUSAND DOLLARS OF HER SHARE.

NAME TEAMS FOR WORK

Finance Committee of Commercial Club to Name Number of Teams to Canvass City.

To date Janesville has subscribed but seventy-five thousand dollars as her contribution to the Liberty Loan of $1,000,000. Between now and the fifteenth of June the balance variously estimated at from $800,000 to $325,000, must be taken up by the city.

Within the last few days, however, definite steps have been taken by various interests in the city to push the sale of these bonds with an energy commensurate with the needs of the emergency, and in a manner which will bring the proposition squarely before not only the financial interests of the city but before every member of the community, whether he be an investor or not.

According to the plan of organization adopted by the bankers of the county at their annual dinner last Friday evening, a central executive committee has been named to direct in as far as possible the distribution of the loan. S. M. Smith and H. S. Haggart are the Janesville men who have been appointed to serve on this committee. All of the banks in the city were officially delegated as members of a local committee to push the work of giving great publicity to the bonds and to the need for their immediate subscription.

At their meeting yesterday the directors of the Commercial club discussed various means for carrying forward this work and placed the actual details in the hands of the finance committee, of which William McVicar is chairman. He will name a number of teams, on each of which the banks of the city will be represented, which will conduct personal canvasses of the city.

These canvassers together with the work the bankers are doing themselves and with the publicity and cooperation given by the distribution committee of this federal reserve district, are expected to bring the issue clearly before the citizens.

Of the $75,000 already subscribed in the city much has been taken up by small investors. The number of fifty and hundred dollar bonds subscribed for, far exceeds those of larger denominations. Practically every fraternal organization in the city has taken a bond, the last one being the Janesville Lodge, number 55, F. and A. M., which bought a bond yesterday.

All of the banks report a constant stream of subscriptions every day, but these must be greatly increased if Janesville is to absorb its share of the loan within the next two weeks. It is expected, however, that the organization of the canvassing teams will enlist the active aid of men in all walks of life who can solicit in every part of the city.

"If you are here for Liberty, Buy a Liberty Loan Bond," must be realized by everyone," said a prominent banker this morning. "This is not a loan to be taken up by the bankers by the big business interests of the country. It is too great a thing for that; it must be absorbed by the people. It must come in small amounts but from every source. It must realize that the success of the war depends upon the floating of this first loan. It is investment now for the government, or tribute later to Germany."

BOARDSERS VICTIMS OF DARING THIEF

West Milwaukee Street Froming House Visited by Sneak Who Gets $85—Loss May Be Greater.

Eighty-five dollars is known to have been stolen and possibilities are that the aggregate sum taken will reach one hundred dollars as the result of this early this morning a thief to rooms at the boarding house of John A. Webster, 508 West Milwaukee street, near Academy.

The missing $85 was taken from the rooms of three men and was reported by car chiefs and another railroad man left to catch the early south-bound Northwestern train and it is not known whether or not they lost any cash.

Several suspects were brought to the police station this morning and questioned and the whereabouts and companions of each one of the victims was investigated this morning. No arrests were made however.

The victims were Gus Ulis, a tailor; August Stristad and Thomas Murray, bartenders, and Charles Erickson, manager of a local grocery store. Ulis lost thirty-five dollars in five and ten dollar bills and enough small change to raise the total to forty dollars. Stristad found thirty dollars and Erickson, Murray, three dollars and ten cents.

No jewelry or other valuables were taken. All rooms visited are on the second floor. There is an exit to the rear of the house outside the accommodation of railroad men. All had their doors open. The Greek popcorn man at Franklin street took his door and left a visit. Nothing was missing from downstairs.

BADGER STATE TODAY HAS 69TH BIRTHDAY

ONE OF THE GREATEST FOOD PRODUCING STATES OF THE UNION OBSERVES ADMITTANCE ANNIVERSARY.

WISCONSIN HISTORY

First Ten Years as a Territory of the Nation and Later Admitted as Commonwealth It Is Now.

Wisconsin is sixty-nine years old today.

Every city in the state is marking with patriotic celebration, in more or less degree, the birthday of the Badger state—one of the greatest food producing units of the nation.

Sixty-nine years ago today President James K. Polk, the nation's second chief executive, approved the act of congress admitting the state to the union after ten years as a territory, during which time it was at tempted four times by popular vote through the efforts of Governor Doty to attain statehood.

Following the first constitutional convention, the people voted 14,113 for and 20,281 against the acceptance of the document drawn up by a bitter campaign and the vote came April 5, 1847. The convention had been in session between October and December 18, 1846.

An outline of the Badger state's early history follows:

Previous to the fall of new France (1763), what is now Wisconsin was held by the French, who had several military posts within its borders—the chief among them at Green Bay and the Rock. Upon the cession of British control the country north-west of the River Ohio (including the present Wisconsin) was made a part of the province of Quebec, but by the treaty of 1763, the territory was transferred to the United States. There were, at first, claims by the tide-water states of some of the land in the northwest, but eventually these were surrendered, and the district became national domain. By the ordinance of 1787, the trans-Ohio country was divided into three territories. The territory west of Lake Michigan and north of the Illinois line became in 1818 a part of Michigan territory, and was organized in 1820 as Crawford county, whose officers exercised civil jurisdiction. Congress in 1836 erected Wisconsin Territory—the name being derived from the principal river. It is an Indian name, the exact meaning of which is unknown; popular writers are fond of telling us what it signifies—"gathering of the waters," or "meeting of the waters"—but there is no warrant for this. The earliest known French form of the word is "Miskonsin," which gradually became crystallized in "Ouisconsin." When the English language became dominant it was necessary to change the spelling in order to preserve the sound; it thus at first became "Wisconsin," or "Wisconsin," but finally by official action "Wisconsin." The "K" was, however, rather strenuously insisted upon by Governor Doty and many newspaper editors in the days of the territory.

Some of the people of Wisconsin were not content with a territorial government. The territory was only two years old when a bill was introduced in congress for a state government, but the attempt proved abortive. In 1831 Governor Doty, the leader in the movement, had the question put to popular vote within the territory 92 voting for and 490 against it. In 1832 there was still no other vote—aye, 619; nay, 1,821. In 1834 a third attempt was defeated in the territorial council, and in 1845 still another met defeat in the assembly.

At last, after ten years of territorial existence, popular sentiment had been educated to a general desire for statehood. Accordingly, Governor Atwater of Green Bay, then the territorial representative in congress, gave notice in the house of representatives (January 9, 1846) "of a nation for leave to introduce a bill to enable the people of Wisconsin to form a constitution and state government; and for the admission of such state into the union." He followed this (January 13) by the introduction of a bill to that effect. The measure was approved by President Polk August 10.

Meanwhile in January and February, 1846, the council and house of Wisconsin voted the territory and favorably voted on the proposition, and discussed some of the principal features of the proposed state constitution. On April 17 the question of statehood was passed upon by the people of the territory, the returns this time showing 12,224 votes for and 2,487 against. August 1, Governor Dodge issued a proclamation calling a convention to draft a constitution and apportioning 124 delegates to the various counties. These delegates were elected September 7.

The convention was an able body of thoroughly representative men, of whom 42 were native of New York state, 29 of New England, and 12 of foreign birth; 69 of them were farmers and 20 lawyers. The oldest man was 65 and the youngest 23. The speeches, as recorded in the newspapers of the day, were of an exceptionally high order. The constitution which these men framed was submitted to popular vote April 5, 1847, the result being 14,113 ayes and 20,281 nays. The contest over the document had been of an exciting nature; the defeat was owing to differences of opinion upon the article relating to the rights of married women, the article of exemptions and those on banks, the elective judiciary, and the numerical size of the legislature. As soon as the practical Government Dodge (September 27, 1847) called a special session of the legislature, which convened at Madison October 13 and made provisions for a second constitutional convention with 124 members. Most of the members of the first convention declined reelection to the second.

The second convention, which on the whole was thought to represent a more conservative element than the first, was in session at Madison from December 15, 1847, to February 1, 1848. The nativity list showed that 25 were born in New York state, 24 in New England and only 7 in foreign lands. The oldest man was 65 and the youngest 25, with an average age of about 37.

The members of both conventions were men of high standing in their respective communities, and later many of them held prominent positions in the service of the nation and the state.

As soon as possible after the close of the convention notice was given in congress (February 21, 1848) by our representative, John H. Tweedy, of his intention to introduce a bill for the admission of Wisconsin into the union. March 13 the people of the territory voted on the new constitution and it was adopted by 161,799 ayes and 8,844 nays. March 16, in a THRILL FOR LELA A scenario staff, has just received from Arizona a draft for $15 which is the last installment on a loan of $150 which Miss Leibrand made to a man she helped to get out of prison and she is happier about that $15 than if she had received a gift of a hundred times that amount. Miss Leibrand's hobby, if that it can be properly called, is the reformation of criminals and she has thus far redeemed a score of them, and honored citizenship. Of these she has seen only one. The man who just finished paying the loan Miss Leibrand has never seen. She does all her work by direct correspondence with the convicts and in no case has she failed.

The Maxwell Is Mechanically Right We Waited Four Years To Say That

The makers of the Maxwell spent four years in developing the car. Patient, persistent, scientific refinement of one model—that was the method. An automobile that beats the world for endurance, efficiency, economy—that's the result.

You know the old story about the race between the hare and the tortoise:

- how the hare skipped about the fields—nibbled clover tops—cut all kinds of capers, trying to "show off";
- how the tortoise stuck to his job—stayed in the middle of the road—kept on going—and won the race;
- you know that story and its moral.

No Experiment in Maxwell Mechanism

Some automobile makers have run around after novelties—like the hare, trying to add untold "improvements" which operate better in advertising than on the car.

But the Maxwell makers held fast to one model, and when some one made a big how-do about his latest novelty, the Maxwell makers strengthened a pin, or simplified or improved a part of the Maxwell mechanism.

—or in other big and little ways developed, refined, perfected the one Maxwell model.

So that, in the end, the Maxwell won by the tortoise method.

The Maxwell World Endurance Champion

A Maxwell stock car—a duplicate in every detail of your Maxwell—without stopping the motor, traveled 22,022 miles in 44 days and nights.

—and at a rate of 25 miles an hour and 22 miles per gallon of gasoline.

No other vehicle built by human beings ever did anything to compare with that feat.

The Economy Champion Too

P. D. Armour used to say that his packing houses "utilized all the hog but the squeal."

That's the kind of economy you get in a Maxwell.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: (1) Will you please print a remedy for pimples and blackheads that will not do harm to the face?

(2) Is it all right to wear a blue dress at this time of the year? I have a beautiful one and I would like to wear it. It is not real heavy colored and it would be all right.

(3) What color should a girl be in when she is out with her boy friend?

(4) Is it all right to stand and talk to a boy friend?

(5) What color of shoes would you get to wear with a mustard colored suit?

(6) Is it all right to go to a show with your boy friend in the afternoon?

(7) If I do you think of a teacher who sits in front of her pupils and shows her legs up to her knees? Would you report her to the principal or tell her so on? She also takes her to the park and other places. Would you report her?

(8) A blackhead lotion which will not injure the skin is made from two ounces of pure brandy, one ounce of cologne and one-half ounce of liquid of potash. Apply at night after washing the face thoroughly with soap and water.

(9) A cream for pimples is made by combining five grams of lanolin, five grams of oil of sweet almonds, five grams of sulphur precipitate, two and one-half grams of oxide of zinc and ten drops of extract of violet. Apply a little of the cream to each pimple and do not spread it on the face. Wait until the pimples are cured before using a face brush or deep massage.

LETTERS MAY BE ADDRESSED TO DR. BRADY, IN CARE OF THE GAZETTE.

SWELLING OF THE NETHER LIMBS

A Wisconsin legislature recently deplored the present recklessness of women in exposing the legs to the elements and risking health and life for the mere fashion. A Wisconsin reader now writes to inquire what makes women's legs as he frankly puts it, swell up.

Maybe they don't swell up. The white stockings just make them look that way. However,

Tabulating some eleven thousand cases of swelling of the legs, it appears that the causes run in something like this:

1. Heart failure. Heart failure always comes slowly and insidiously, never suddenly as the body viewing type of coroner would seem to imagine. Swelling of the feet, ankles and legs, is frequently an early indication of the falling circulation.
2. Nephritis (Bright's disease).
3. Anemia. This is a very common cause of swelling of the legs.
4. Varicose veins.
5. Phlebitis, meaning inflammation of a vein, either complicating an old varicose, or resulting from infection, entering through an ulcer on the leg, or produced by direct injury, or following child birth or pelvic disease. The swelling due to phlebitis is usually limited to one leg and persists for weeks or months, if the patient is up and about.
6. Cirrhosis of the liver—hardening of the liver, generally caused by prolonged habitual drinking of small quantities of alcoholic beverages.
7. Alcoholic neuritis, brought on by intense stress or by heavy secret indulgence in some highly alcoholic beverage.
8. Out strain, pronounced or weak, or the more advanced stage, flat-foot, will cause swelling of feet and ankles, or one foot.
9. Rarely a large tumor in the pelvis or abdomen will press upon veins to a degree sufficient to produce swelling of one or both legs.

For the swelling of dropsy (from kidney, heart or liver disease), one of the best treatments when in the doctor's judgment the patient's condition warrants it, is the Kettel diet—a day full of skimmed milk every three or four hours in the day, and no other food or drink, for one, two or three days a week.

Massage or rubbing is tried at all, it should always be from the feet toward the heart, for that is the direction of the circulation in the veins, which must carry away the fluid from the tissue.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
The Shoulder Brace Habit.
Please advise me whether it would be all right for a boy of eighteen to wear a shoulder brace for a shoulder which is slightly bent. (A. E. C.)

ANSWER.—Not if there is hope of overcoming the deformity. I do not understand just what you mean by a shoulder slightly bent. You certainly should not apply a brace without medical advice. It is a serious mistake to put a brace or splint or prop of any kind on without having medical advice about it.

My answer to your question is, Yes. However, it is nothing to be ashamed of. I fear you have been sadly misinformed by some one who hoped to do you good.

Young Publisher Pleads for Attention
A publisher of 86 solicited "our pleasant advice some time ago, and I wonder if a newspaper publisher should seek attention. Does a man of 64, in a person otherwise well, call for treatment, such as 1-100th grain nitroglycerin tablets, or digitalis? Or a brisk walk? I have been publishing for many years, and I spend my winters here.

ANSWER.—Well, a mere tyro like yourself can't expect much space in this column. You've got to beat 86 to order to rouse interest here. No, that pulse rate is all right. Don't fool with it. Take your walk and laugh at the druggist as you pass by.

Household Hints

COTTAGE CHEESE
Cottage cheese is one of the important meat substitutes, say specialists of the United States department of agriculture. It contains a larger percentage of protein (the chief material for building) than most meats and furnishes this material at a lower cost. In every pound of cottage cheese there is about one-fourth of a pound of protein, nearly all of which is digestible. On the other hand, unusually contain less protein and besides have a certain waste, such as bone and other inedible material. A pound of cottage cheese, dairy would supply all the protein required by the ordinary adult, engaged in a sedentary occupation.

The following table shows that cottage cheese, obtainable at 12 to 17 cents per pound, is much cheaper than most meats in furnishing protein for the diet.

For supplying protein one pound of cottage cheese equals:

1.25 pounds sirloin steak.
1.09 pounds round steak.
1.37 pounds chuck rib beef.
1.52 pounds fowl.
1.46 pounds fresh ham.
1.44 pounds smoked ham.
1.31 pounds loin pork chop.
1.31 pounds round leg of lamb.
1.37 pounds breast of veal.

In addition to "protein," energy for performing heavy work must be furnished by food. As a source of energy also cottage cheese is cheaper than most meats at present prices. The following table shows the comparison when energy is supplied:

one pound of cottage cheese equals:
8.13 ounces sirloin steak.
11.14 ounces round steak.
11.4 ounces chuck rib beef.
10.4 ounces fowl.
5.12 ounces fresh ham.
5 ounces smoked ham.
6 ounces loin pork chop.
7.3 ounces round leg of lamb.
12.34 ounces breast of veal.

A SLICE OF BREAD
A single slice of bread seems an unimportant thing. In many cases, one or more slices of bread daily are thrown away and not used for human food. Sometimes stale quarter- or half- loaves are thrown out.

At one good-sized slice of bread—such as a child likes to cut—weighs an ounce. It contains almost three-fourths of an ounce of flour.

If every one of the country's 20,000,000 homes wastes on the average only one slice of bread a day, the country is throwing away daily over 14,000,000 ounces of flour—over 875,000 pounds, or enough flour for over a million one-pound loaves.

There would be a waste of over 319,000,000 pounds of flour—enough to make 365,000,000 loaves.

As it takes 4½ bushels of wheat to make a barrel of ordinary flour, this waste would represent the flour from over 7,000,000 bushels of wheat.

Fourteen and nine-tenths bushels of wheat, on the average are raised per acre. It would take the fruit of some 470,000 acres just to provide a single slice of bread to be wasted daily in every home.

To produce this much flour calls for an army of farmers, railway men, flourmill people. To get the flour to the consumer calls for many freight cars and the use of many tons of coal.

But, someone says, a full slice of bread is not wasted in every home. Very well—make it a daily slice for every ten or every thirty homes—make a weekly or monthly slice in every home—or make the wasted slice thinner. The waste of flour involved is still appalling—altogether too great to be tolerated when wheat is scarce.

Any waste of bread is inexcusable when there are so many ways of using stale bread to cook delicious dishes.

TO REMOVE TANNIN STAINS
To remove tannin stains from tea-cups or any other porcelain ware, a paste mixture of salt and strong acetic acid should be used. The mixture should be applied with a cloth and after the stain is bleached out the cup should be washed and dried.

The Business of Living

The Filmores Learn the Full Seriousness of Douglas's Resemblance to Another Man.

"Who can that be?" asked Eleanor nervously as her husband rose to answer the loud summons of the door bell.

"Probably the strong arm of the law," was the bitter answer. Eleanor followed him to the door and sure enough an officer stood on the steps and without waiting for an invitation stepped into the hall as soon as the door was opened.

"Is this Douglas Filmore?" asked the officer.

"The same," answered Douglas. "Douglas Filmore, alias George Derby, you are under arrest charged with bigamy."

The constable handed Douglas a paper.

Eleanor came and looked over Douglas's shoulder as he read and the officer regarded her a moment with great solemnity and thoughtfully scratched his jaw.

He fixed his gaze on the ceiling after the protein required by the ordinary adult, engaged in a sedentary occupation.

MARRIED WOMEN IN BUSINESS.

The man who sells is an important factor in any business. But not so important as the man who buys. At least so a business man told me recently.

In the business of married life, in nine cases out of ten, the women are the buyers.

One often hears married women complaining because their work is so monotonous and uninteresting, and wishing they could go into business where they would have some chance to use their brains.

Yet in the majority of cases these women are not using their brains in their share of the world's business.

In fact the same income is the hardest to spend wisely.

To spend even a small income in the wisest, most efficient way is truly a task for all a woman has not only of brains but of character.

A first class buyer, the kind who if she were a man would be offered positions by other houses, will know the value, not only the price, of all she buys. In the matter of food she will understand cuts of meat, she will know about the food values of various articles, she will see everything she buys instead of shopping by telephone.

It is not the people who have the least money who buy most carefully. A settlement worker told me of a woman who had six dollars a week to feed a family of five and included in her budget a head of lettuce a day (ninety per cent water).

The Woman Who Fills, Not Just Holds Her Job.

In the matter of dry goods she will also be enough of a judge of materials not to be at the mercy of the clerk. She will know every good, she will be able to detect the shoddy, she will know at what shops each article can be bought at best advantage.

These are a few—just a few—of the ways in which a woman who wants to fill her job of buyer, not merely held by virtue of the marriage service, will use her brains.

Now as to character. The woman who buys to the best advantage must have self-restraint. She must know what she needs most and be able to steer a straight course towards it despite all temptations.

She Just Went on a Spending Spree.

A dear little married friend of mine showed me a most attractive tea table she had bought. It was a bargain, it was pretty, it was nice to have.

THE WEEKLY MEETING OF THE TUESDAY LADIES' CLUB.

FIFTY-FIFTY

PRIVATE CITIZEN

southern clime, was at hand before Meade realized it. An ordinary engineer of half the ability of Bertram Meade, so suddenly reduced to the ranks, would have chafed against the position of subordination and would have resented the humble duties with which he was charged. But Meade was happy to be following, even in this extremely modest way, the profession that he loved. And he did his unimportant work with zeal and care. It is not much to say, but he was the most efficient of the junior engineering force on the dam.

It was not because Meade was unsocial that he kept to himself—not at all. From his own galvanized-iron quarters he used to stare longingly at the men grouped around the big campfires, for the nights were growing chill, smoking and laughing, exchanging experiences and telling stories. Nothing would have pleased him better than to have joined in, and he could have told stories and related experiences that would have been unique even in that gay crowd of young adventurers. But he did not dare. He feared to betray himself. What he wanted above everything was to preserve his incognito. It would be fatal to his chances of ever working up to anything worth while if they found out who he was.

And he had a tremendous pride to sustain him. They respected him now. As a matter of fact, they put his withdrawal of himself down to vagaries of temperament or causes they could not imagine, and they grew rather to like him even as they left him alone. And a few of the men of the humbler sort to whom he had been kind on occasion, and helpful, were stoutly devoted to him.

The idleness of an aimless life did not appeal to him even in his off-duty periods. Doing nothing had no attraction. He could not get relief that way. Even rambling alone about the hills would not serve. So quick and active a man, so vigorous and buoyant a spirit, so strong a body and mind were not calculated for aimless wandering.

Meade was a very accomplished engineer indeed. There was no branch of the art about which he did not know a little, although hydraulics and structural steel were the things that most appealed to him. He got relief in the duality of his affections for these branches of his profession. Neither one of them ever pulled on him because he did not work monotonously at either of them. He had a natural instinct for topography, and instead of purposelessly strolling about the country, he made a careful inspection of the valley which was to be converted into a huge reservoir by the dam.

The dam itself was, perhaps, an eighth of a mile long at the bottom and touched the receding hill on one side and the spur of Spanish mesa on the other at the top—a huge mound of earth with a clay core extending from which was, if any time in the country could be so characterized, the rainy season. Of course, just as soon as the dam had begun to rise, the flow of the Picket Wire below it had been stopped, except when an occasional freshet had been allowed to pass the undersluice. It was known that the run-off of the river in the rainy season of some years was so small as scarcely to fill the reservoir, and it had been decided to store all the flow of the autumn and winter so that even if the spring rainy season were deficient, the beginning of the next summer would find the reservoir full and the new irrigation system could commence operations successfully.

Vandeventer, like the lost Abbott of the International, was also a driver, who spared neither his men nor himself. The work had proceeded with astonishing rapidity, although this was partially accounted for by the fact that the spillway, which should have occupied their attention, had as yet been only partially excavated. Now, to those ignorant of engineering, an earth dam may seem a temporary expedient, although most of the great irrigation dams of the world are of that character; and everybody knows that if the water should rise high enough to overflow an earth dam it would not last longer than it takes to describe its utter giving way. A flood would sweep it out of the way at once.

The device whereby possible floods are controlled and such dangers averted, consists of a broad channel at one side of the dam, and at such a distance below its crest that if, through any mischance or natural happening, such as the failure of the sluice gates, excessive rains, cloudbursts, or floods, the height of the water is increased until it promises to overflow the dam, this opening will carry off the surplus harmlessly. An earth dam without a spillway would presage almost certain destruction to all who lived in the valley below it.

In the case of the Picket Wire dam, the spillway had to be cut and, in part, blasted out of the mountain side—that is, through the spur of the mesa, which reached down from its high wall towards the narrows. There had been a series of blunders and mishaps, which included the explosion of a shipment of dynamite on the railroad, with very disastrous consequences to accompanying rock crushers and mixers, and other machinery. The spillway had not been completed. Its opening should have been about twelve feet below the level of the dam. Vandeventer was not responsible, of course. The chief engineer had turned and protested, but had been directed by headquarters to go ahead with the other work and tackle the spillway later. There was, indeed, little reason to hold up the building of that particular dam because of the noncompletion of the spillway.

That was a country, so the most devoted inhabitants freely admitted, in which it was always safe to bet that it would not rain, no matter how threatening might be the appearance of the sky; for in ninety-nine times out of a hundred the negative would win the bet. Said inhabitants did not say the hundredth time might compensate for all the other failures. The weather was like the little girl with the proverbial curl—when it did rain there was no doubt in anybody's mind as to the fact. Sometimes the fountains of the great deep, which, in Holy Scripture at least, extended overhead, would be broken open and the violence of the fall and the quantity of it, and suddenness of it, would be such that the Westerners would graphically call it a "cloudburst," which, indeed, it seemed to be.

Outside the rainy season cloudbursts were unheard of, and even in that season extremely rare. For the valley of the Picket Wire and in the plain beneath carefully tabulated reports of the rainfall for years had been considered by the engineers. They had chosen the right season for the building of the dam, but when its crest began to rise above the designed level of the spillway the delay in opening the channel gave cause for some alarm. It is not the probable or certain that is feared. An old version that, of "omne ignotum pro magnifico"—it is only the unknown of which men are afraid, or only the unknown to be feared! Still there was nothing Vandeventer could do but obey orders and go ahead. The danger, after all, was trifling. Another consequence of the waiting was that in his inability to work on the spillway, he had more hands to devote to the dam and it rose the quicker.

The shape of the country behind it was such that when the Picket Wire flowed with sufficient volume to fill it, a long lake going back through the valley, or canyon, and twisting among the hills for some miles would result. In other words, the dam would make a beautiful artificial sheet of water bordered on one side by a high range of hills, on the other by the dam, and on the third by the hills and the low hog-back above Spanish mesa, which separated the Picket Wire valley from the Kicking Horse gorge up which the railroad ran.

Buried in his own thoughts, communing with himself, considering ceaselessly his position, dreaming of the woman he loved, planning a new career, Meade yet explored every foot of the valley and ravine. He climbed to the top of Spanish mesa, and from its height the whole country clear up the valley to the main range was visible to him. He could look down into the deep ravine of the Kicking Horse, and note the marvelous beauty and airiness of the arch bridge for all it so solidly carried the heavy freight trains of the railway.

How To Judge A Woman By Her Hair

There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good preparation made expressly for shampooing. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much heavier than it is. Its lustre and softness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

Are Propriety Medicines Fraudulent?

Undoubtedly, there may be some that are, but on the other hand, there are many proprietary remedies that are as standard as any prescription that any present day physician can write, and in thousands of homes you will find these old, reliable remedies in every day use with satisfactory results. Such a medicine is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which, for nearly 40 years, has been alleviating the suffering of woman-kind and overcoming some of the most serious ailments of her sex. If you are suffering from any of the ailments of women, give this medicine a trial and prove its worth for yourself.

For Itching Eczema, Old Sores and Piles

"I guarantee my ointment," says Peterson, "to cure eczema; to stop the itching at once and any reliable druggist will cheerfully refund your money if PETERSON'S OINTMENT doesn't do everything I say it will do."

William A. Carley of Franklin, N. Y., is surely a wise man. He writes: "I used PETERSON'S OINTMENT on a little boy suffering terribly with eczema. It did the work."

Then there is Alex. Louttel, a brave fireman of Buffalo, who is glad to write as follows: "I had an old sore on my leg for many years. The best doctors failed. PETERSON'S OINTMENT entirely healed the sore quickly." And from over in Canada comes a letter from A. Blockebey, stating: "The best thing I ever hit for itching piles is PETERSON'S OINTMENT." A big box for 25 cents.

Dinner Stories

She had attained some success as an authoress and after her marriage decided to write a novel. Some months later she complained to her husband:

"My new novel goes but slowly, dear; but my publisher assures me it would go into the thousands if we'd just get up some sort of a sensation—for instance—get you to enter divorce proceedings!"

The husband meditated thoughtfully a few moments.

"Well," he said, "I can't afford that; but I'm willing to run away!"

The driver of a small car speeded out of a cross street and struck the street car squarely amidships. The street car conductor got off to investigate and collect evidence for his official report.

"What's the matter with you?" the conductor asked the driver.

"Don't you know you can't run under my car with your top up?"

"Here, you!" shouted the lord and master of the household to the maid of all work.

"What's this your mistress tells me about all the cream missing again?"

"Nonsense, girl!" said the master. "You know we have not got one!"

"But, please, sir, the mistress said she was going to get one."

Jimmy's mother had told him to stay near the window and watch for the bride and bridegroom and come and tell her when he saw them coming. After waiting for some time his patience was rewarded, but he forgot to run and tell his mother. When they were quite near he suddenly remembered and called out lustily, "Mamma, here comes the bride and the groom."

EXCUSE SCHOOL CHILDREN TO WORK ON FARMS

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Wausau, May 29.—A large number of children have already been excused from school to go to work on farms in the vicinity and many others are pending. Some are receiving full credit for their work and others will be made to return for final examinations. The acting postmaster, running a volunteer labor bureau, has room for hundreds more desiring to do their duty and do their bit in the war production at home. Ship builders, lumber and iron workers are wanted.

MILLION DOLLAR STEEL MILL TO BE BUILT IN STATE

Milwaukee Wis., May 29.—Establishment of a $1,000,000 steel rolling mill somewhere in Wisconsin promises to create a new source of labor shortly. The new mill will produce billets, bars and plates and will employ a large force of men. All machinery will be operated electrically. The plant will be known as the Ideated company. It is another "war baby."

Too Polite To Tell You

Vain regrets, often expressed by the young ladies and society matrons, who cannot understand why they are not as popular as before—perhaps it is caused by the breath. Most people are too polite to tell you—they just ignore you. Use no-tel—a harmless preparation that will absolutely remove any odor from the breath. 10c at your drug store.

Sound As A Bullet!

Notwithstanding the great responsibilities that are crowding upon us the country is—sound as a bullet

The way the declaration of war might damage us commercially and industrially at this time, would be for us as a people to set aside cold logic and refuse to see arithmetical facts in the case—and turn-tail like scared horses, and R-U-N—and that is something we have far too much sense to DO

Why should we shy, and run away, and break up the wagon of prosperity now?

There are billions of dollars to be spent for all sorts of things right here among us!

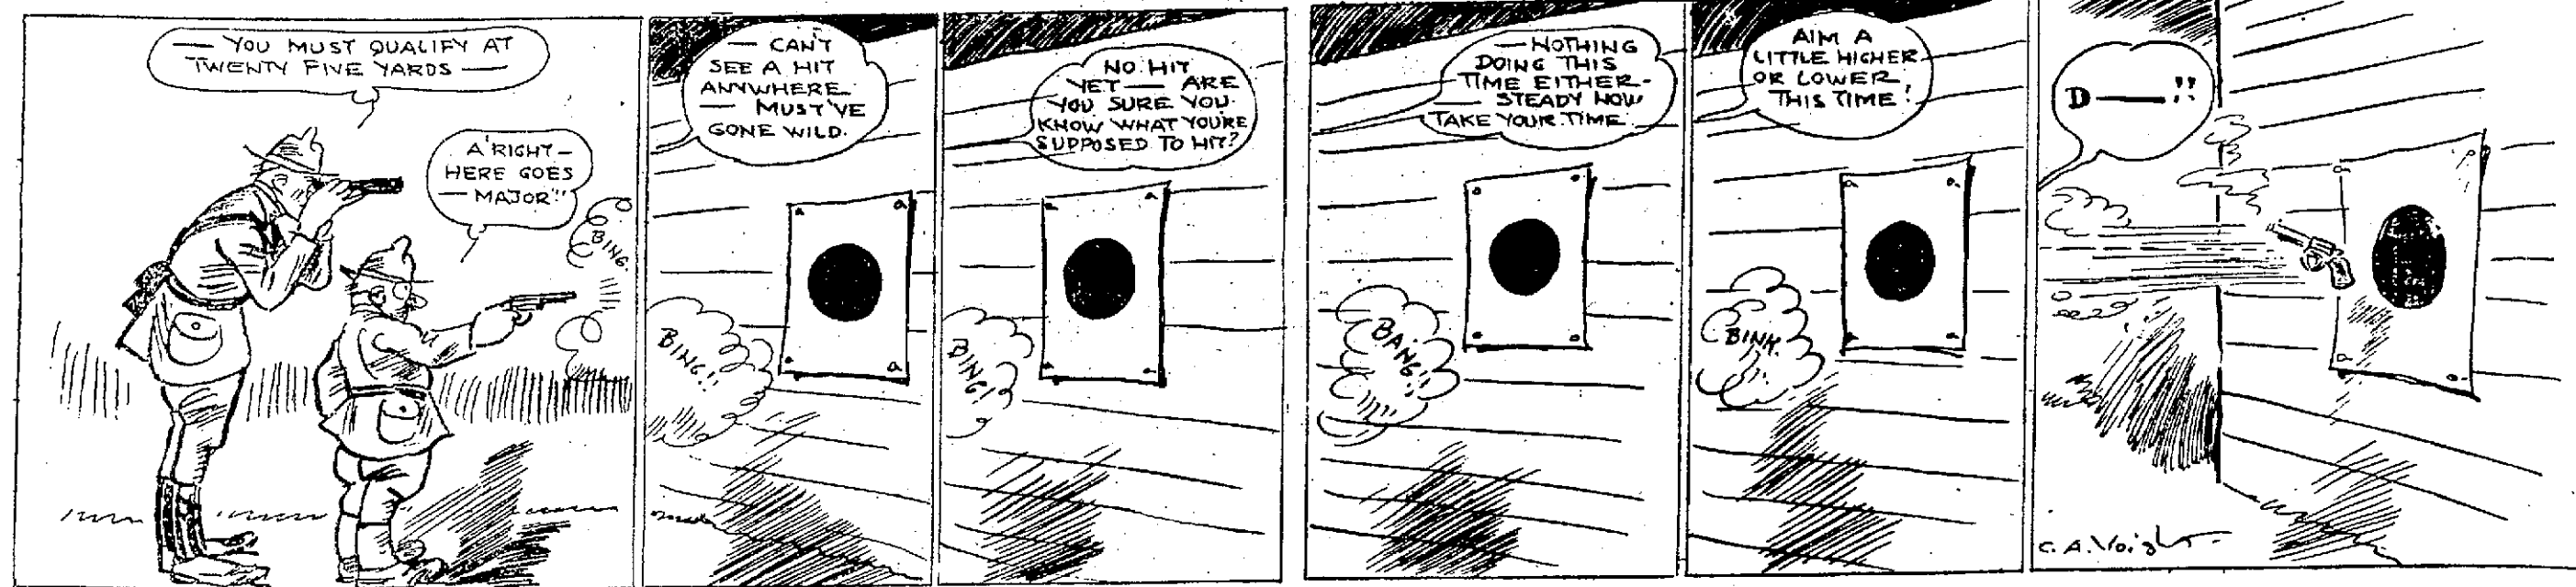

Times HAVE been good. They will continue to be good—unless we ourselves kick over the beans!

Prices Will Be High, It Is True-- But People Will Have Money To Spend!

This is not the time for pessimism—and this is no land for the idle or faint-hearted!

It is now up to us to write a new and splendid chapter in the history of this nation, and in order to write it we MUST GO STRAIGHT AHEAD!

We must advertise—We must spend our money for the comforts of life Because we must maintain the normal processes of TRADE—For only by so doing can we properly stand by the FLAG!

CARDS AND FAIRIES PLAY TOMORROW FOR RED CROSS, SOLDIER

Old Rivals Meet at Fairbanks-Morse Plant Diamond for First Time This Season—All Coin to War Relief.

The Janesville Cardinals and the Beloit Fairies will clash at Morse Field, Beloit, tomorrow, and the first 1917 battle between the old rivals promises to be quite an interesting affair. Aside from the playing end the gate receipts are going to the war cause, 90 per cent to the Linn County Y. M. C. A. to build a war camp shack and the remaining 10 per cent to the Red Cross.

Locally fans are looking for President Bill Langston and Manager Willis Cole to gather together a good aggregation and make a commendable showing against the fairies. Yesterday and today the country was being scoured for a number of new players in hopes of hitting on a few for regular use.

The hill plant team is a wonder this year, and in an even dozen games played the Fairies have dropped but two. One of these defeats came Sunday when the Ragun Colts nosed out in a 2 to 1 victory which went 16 innings.

From Beloit this morning word came that it is probable that Herb Kremen will be on the slab for several weeks. Kremen's arm has been several points off, but he has been giving it all his workout and it is again coming into form.

The game will start promptly at three o'clock. The Beloit management is expecting a large delegation from Janesville, but after the local exhibition on Sunday it is doubtful if there will be a good representation from here. The fans are disgusted with the team and unless there is a pretty thorough weeding out of some of the old women, Janesville will have a punk year in baseball. The club stockholders will have to dig down in their pockets to pay a big deficit. Give the local fans a strong and fast team and it will have able financial support and a crowd of backers ready to follow the aggregation around the league circuit.

The big feature of the game tomorrow is that the Fairbanks-Morse Athletic association is standing all the expenses. They have posted a guarantee for the local team, have billed the country and used extensive newspaper advertising and in addition have hired a special band for a big concert to precede the game and to play throughout it. The association is going at the project strong, and already all Beloit is planning to attend the "Victory Day" game.

All the money taken in for the programs, in the grandstand, at the gate, will go to the aid of American troops in the field. The relief feature should be an attraction for those of patriotic trend. There will be no advance in price, two bits admitting one to the bleachers and if he is further inclined to favor the fund a dime will get him into the grandstand.

ALL STARS WIN A PAIR FROM MONTEREY BOYS

The Janesville All Stars trounced the living daylight out of the Monterey Boys' club bats last night at the fourth ward park Sunday, and won both games of the double-header by large scores. The first game was a 22 to 4 victory, and the second was won by a 12 to 2 count. McCarthy, Pitcher and Zahn composed the Star's aggregation of Hager and Wall in the first game.

Charles Bick performed for the Stars in the second game, and after the first inning settled down in fine form. Crowley was on the receiving end, McCarthy was in sore straits when he was relieved by Schilling, but the Star continued to slaughter the relief man.

WELSH'S TITLE LOST TO BENNY LEONARD

Freddie Meets Lad Who Ended Richie Mitchell Once Too Often—Kays in Ninth.

Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of the world, met Benny Leonard just once too often. The thing fight fans have been watching and hoping for for the last two years came to pass at New York last night, when Leonard slipped over a knockout and became the new lightweight champion of the world.

The fight between the boys was their third. In the previous two each had gained a newspaper decision. Welsh was considered almost unbeatable at the ten-round game, but Leonard proved master of the situation at all stages of their bout last night. He had the champ in distress from the fourth round on and during the latter stages of the seventh Welsh was weakening perceptibly, although he was putting up his usual wonderful defensive bout.

The ninth round follows: Welsh missed with two straight punches to the face, but blocked Leonard's right swing and kept coming like a flash. He sent Welsh to his knees with a volley of blows. When Welsh got up he started another jab, and sent him reeling to the ropes, and Welsh hung on the ropes.

Referee McPartland released his hold on the ropes and Welsh reeled the ropes to the press stand, but his second jumped into the ring and caught him. The referee stopped the bout. Leonard wins by a knockout.

CANTILLON CONFIRMS PLOT TO WRECK A. ASSOCIATION AND START ANOTHER MAJOR

Mike Cantillon, president of the Minneapolis American Association baseball club and a former Janesville boy as well as a player on the prairies here in his youth, at Minneapolis yesterday confirmed the reports of the plot to break the association and organize a third major league. Cantillon says the plot was conceived by dissatisfied baseball men who schemed in the extreme to put the A. A. on the rocks. He refused to make public the names of any of the plotters. The plan was to include Kansas City, Milwaukee, Louisville and Indianapolis, on the western end of the new league, according to Cantillon. Baltimore was to have been one of the eastern cities, with others from international league towns.

The Pittsburgh club arranged a deal for Pitcher Duster Mails to go to Birmingham, but he said he couldn't stand the baseball men who schemed in the extreme to put the A. A. on the rocks. He refused to make public the names of any of the plotters. The plan was to include Kansas City, Milwaukee, Louisville and Indianapolis, on the western end of the new league, according to Cantillon. Baltimore was to have been one of the eastern cities, with others from international league towns.

MACK BEGINNING TO BUY PLAYERS

Connie Mack, famed developer of young talent, is beginning to doubt that they grow in the colleges now as they used to. His efforts to rebuild a powerful baseball machine on the lines that the famous team of former days held have met with little success. He has been forced to beat the bushes to get some life into his ball club.

Memory recalls that Eddie Collins, Jack Barry, Stuffy McInnis, Eddie Plank, Chief Bender, Jack Coombs and many other famous ball players who have developed under the tutelage of Mack were collegians just a short time before they became Athletics.

Mack tried to do it all over. He combed the college talent looking for promising players and he picked out many youngsters who were given trials. Only a few of them have been able to stand the major-league pace. Among the college players still drawing salaries from the Athletics is Lawton Witt. He is a real star and is becoming better daily as he learns the Mack system. Catcher Meyer is another, but aside from these the college players have done little. Mack went out last year and bought Ping Bodie, Thrasher, Noves, Bates and some others. Recently he brought Guy Flenberg back to the big circuit. He is trying now to rebuild as the other managers do. His efforts so far have brought encouraging results, but he is still a long way from the dead point.

Mack will have to keep on combing the brush. He will not find the amateur players of promise that used to come from the colleges and semis. The college baseball in the colleges has deteriorated, or the class has gone back. The ball players now, Adams apparently are growing on the sand lots; the colleges are contributing very little.

MORRIS MILLER

National league fans had almost forgotten that Ed Reulbach was still with the Boston Braves until yesterday when he was asked on his last week. Reulbach hasn't pitched much ball for a couple of seasons and about the only time he got into the lineup was through his connection with the Players' Fraternity as its secretary.

The Pittsburgh club has released infielder Hoke Warner to the Wilkesbarre club of the New York State league. Warner was a rank failure both as a pitcher and a fielder. His case recalls an interesting story. A Pittsburgh scout, it is said, went to Dayton to look this player over. After report had been made on observations and a deal closed by which $4,000 was to be paid for his release, the officials of the Dayton club were somewhat interested to get this message from Pittsburgh: "Can Warner, hit left-handed pitching?" "The answer was something like this: "Didn't you find out before you bought him?"

Lon McDonald, Indianapolis entrant in the light harness horse games "Big Six," expects to make some interesting history on the Grand Circuit this coming season. McDonald has experienced quite a bit of sickness among his charges, but by this time all have rounded to and their general condition is excellent.

Unfavorable weather has hit the Indianapolis trainer as hard as it wallowed the trotting and pacing skippers in all other points this week. But McDonald is optimistic nevertheless. He gets some consolation out of the fact that while his steppers have been prevented from training as hard as had been planned, they will not be all worked out when the bell rings at North Randall on July 16.

The man from Indiana is greatly encouraged by the way his famous pacer, Miss Harris M., by Peter the Great, is working this spring. Miss Harris M. looks better than ever and her prospects of being the first mare to pace in 2:00 seem very bright. McDonald's ambition in 1917 will be to pilot Miss Harris M. to the world's record. The mare will likely be started at the second North Randall meeting, August 13, in an attempt to lower the mark.

The fastest pacer or really the speediest light harness horse living is Directum 1, 1:56 2/3. Horsemen hardly believe Miss Harris M. has a chance to approach Directum's record, but experts predict that she will chop the oval in 2:00 or a little under.

McDonald has other promising material. Harvest Tide (3), by The Harvester, out of Emily Ellen; Baron Cegantile (2), by Cegantile, and Hayworth (2), by The Harvester, are as good prospects as any one would care to have in his stable. Worthy Volt (2), 2:08 3/4, is rounded to from his indisposition; Zomrect, 2:08 3/4, is rugged and strong, and Peter Greenwade, 2:07 3/4, is as handsome a free-legged pacer as one would care to see.

Cicotte is the winning pitcher of the White Sox. So far Benz has been a disappointment.

What would President Navin of the Tigers pay for a pitcher like Ray Caldwell just now?

Benny Kauff is hitting in the .300 class, but up to Saturday night he had stolen only one base.
